

Shine Bright 4e - Snapfile 5 Titanic stories

Thomas Andrews, Doc 3 p. 53

Thomas Andrews, the naval architect who designed Titanic began his apprenticeship at Harland and Wolff aged 16. Just a decade later, he had risen to become the shipbuilder's head of design¹. He oversaw² the building of Titanic and was aboard during its maiden³ voyage, to make note of any minor improvements that might be needed.

Joe Fullman, The Story of Titanic for Children, 2018

1. directeur du bureau de dessin 2. supervised 3. first

Molly Brown, Doc 4 p. 55

Molly Brown (1867-1932) was an American human-rights activist, philanthropist¹ and actress who survived the sinking of the RMS Titanic. Brown and her husband moved to Denver, Colorado, after achieving great prosperity² through the discovery of gold at one of his mines in 1893. While travelling in Europe, Brown got word³ that her grandson was ill, and subsequently booked a trip back to the United States on the RMS Titanic, famously surviving the ship's sinking. She later took up a number of activist causes, including women's suffrage and workers' rights, and also worked as an actress. She died on October 26, 1932 in New York City.

biography.com, 2017

1. person who gives money to the poor 2. fortune 3. Heard